

Godin in the press

A6 Ultra

REVIEWS > tackle box by Matt Reasor

As Featured in the May/June 2007 issue of American Songwriter Magazine

GODIN A6 Ultra List Price: $919 US list for the HG models, $799 US for the Natural SG. WWW.GODIN.COM

Yet another progressive innovation from our friends up north at Godin, so lets welcome the A6 Ultra to the never ending world of acoustic/electric fusion.

The A6 Ultra continues with the innovative concepts found in all Godin A-series guitars, such as combining amazing plugged-in acoustic sound with the feel of an electric neck, along with a chambered body design that virtually eliminates feedback in live and loud settings. These features stand true and better than ever in the A6 Ultra with the extra "Oomph!" and full tone of a Godin humbucker in the neck position, adding to an under-saddle transducer, dual outputs (acoustic and electric) that combine for a huge stereo sound and a Custom Godin pre-amp section voiced specifically for the A6 Ultra.

This preamp section gives the player a chance to control his tone via sliders for acoustic volume, treble, mid, bass and independent controls for the electric humbucker volume, treble and bass. Whether plugging into the single acoustic mix or in stereo (via both outputs), controlling your tone is at the tip of your fingers. And the A6 Ultra delivers in all styles of music from jazz to rock to country—not to mention a great blues slide guitar.

Other features include a solid cedar top, a two-chambered silver leaf maple body and the comfortable feel of a Godin ergo cut—mahogany neck with rosewood fingerboard. The A6 Ultra is also available in three distinctly attractive finishes, such as the matted sheen of the Natural SG or the stunning luster of the Black HG and the Cognac Burst HG. And there's more. Visit www.godin.com to find a dealer near you or see the spec for yourself.

Rating: Placid

American Songwriter ★ III